my dearest darling that partridge in that lovely little pear tree what an enchanting romantic poetic present bless you and thank you your deeply loving emily everyone knows the twelve days of christmas but not as rewritten by john julius norwich in this delightful correspondence which records the daily thank you letters from one increasingly bemused young lady to her unseen admirer and who but quentin blake could exploit the full comic possibilities of this hilarious debacle as first birds then maids and finally the full percussion section of the liverpool philharmonic bring mayhem to the calm of an english country christmas a memoir of faith family and friends told through correspondence stories and photographs the black and white edition the mckinnon sisters have just been sent a special christmas challenge faith this is a truly paradigm shifting study that reads a key text in latin humanist studies as the culmination rather than an early example of a tradition in university drama it persuasively argues against the common assumption that there was no drama in the medieval universities until the syllabus was influenced by humanist ideas and posits a new way of reading the performative dimensions of fourteenth and fifteenth century university education in for example ciceronian tuition on epistolary delivery david bevington calls it an impressively learned discussion and commends the sophistication of its use of performativity theory
